OPERATIONS

In Jul 1964 the Florida air National Guard was reorganized under the double duty concept of operation. This gave the group commander two deputy commanders who were directly responsible to him. The new posts included deputy commander for operations and deputy commander for material. At the same time the 125th Air Base Squadron (Air Defense) was redesignated 125th Combat Support Squadron (Air Defense) and the 125th Supply Squadron was activated to replace the inactivated 125 Material Squadron.

The Tri deputy management consists of the deputy commander for maintenance, operations, and resources. The 125th Supply Squadron succumbed to the addition of the Resource Management Squadron and was inactivated.
