

209th CIVIL ENGINEER SQUADRON

MISSION

The 209 CES's mission is to provide engineering support of aircraft operations at main operating base, co-located operating bases, forward operating bases or bare base locations through rapid runway repair, bed down, operations and maintenance support. The 209th provides continuous civil engineering firefighting support to the Combat Readiness Training Center in Gulfport as well as fire protection support for the Mississippi Army National Guard at Camp Shelby.

209th Civil Engineer Squadron is AFSOC's only Guard civil engineer squadron supporting the command's transportable collective protection system mission.
