EMBLEM

On a disc Sable, a stylized arrowhead pointing to chief Argent, charged with two shafts Gules in dexter and Azure in sinister, a base Celeste, surmounted by a cloud in honor point with three lightning bolts piercing it Or, three mullets descending and arcing to center in dexter of the second, all within a narrow border Blue. Attached above the disc, a White scroll edged with a narrow Blue border and inscribed "INTEGRATE EXPERIMENT TEST" in Blue letters. Attached below the disc, a White scroll edged with a narrow Blue border and inscribed "644TH ELECTRONIC SYSTEMS SQ" in Blue letters. SIGNIFICANCE: Ultramarine blue and Air Force yellow are the Air Force colors. Blue alludes to the sky, the primary theater of Air Force operations. Yellow refers to the sun and the excellence required of Air Force personnel. The three white stars represent the unit's mission to integrate, experiment and test in the unseen cyberspace domain. The arrowhead denotes the warfighting "tip of the spear," while the center shaft signifies the Squadron as the conduit delivering the latest and most capable technologies of the warfighter. The lightning bolts reflect the force multiplying capabilities of command, control and communications emanating from the cloud, implying global coverage of these capabilities.
