

770 BUSINESS SUPPORT SQUADRON

MISSION

The 770th Business Support Squadron provides a broad range of support to the Enterprise Sourcing Group aligned organizations, manages the business operations of the organization, including resources and information technology and delivers cross cutting acquisition support to the organization's strategic sourcing process. The 770th has four flights performing the following functions:

Manages performance reporting, contingency requirements, personnel and budget actions, force development, non-acquisition training and self-inspection

Directs the financial planning, programming, budgeting and execution for the ESG

Provides automated systems support to allow creation and maintenance of strategic sourcing vehicles

Serves as the quality assurance and standardization focal point for all actions performed under the ESG

Performs contract clearance reviews, interprets relevant policy and conducts site visits, program management reviews and inspections

Provides pricing support for large dollar acquisitions

The 770 BSS supports acquisitions and business functions across the Enterprise Sourcing Group.
