EMBLEM

On a disc Azure, above in base a globe of the field, gridlined Argent (Silver Gray), charged with a torch Sable, flamed of the last and Or, a winged dragon Gules eyed of the fourth, all within a narrow border Black. Attached below the disc, a Silver Gray scroll edged with a narrow Black border and inscribed "3D FLD INVESTIGATIONS SQ" in Black letters.

EMBLEM SIGNIFICANCE

Ultramarine blue and Air Force yellow are the Air Force colors. Blue alludes to the sky, the primary theater of Air Force operations. The winged dragon represents the power gained by the discovery of hidden truth, to include far off danger, put into a global perspective. The globe is symbolic of the worldwide mission of the Squadron, the Office of Special Investigations (OSI) and the Air Force. The torch is representative of the commitment of the unit and OSI to search for the truth in people's words, actions and association. The Squadron's motto, "Artem Inveniendi Veritatem," translated as "The Art of Finding Truth, captures the essence of the unit's mission.
