EMBLEM

The Nighthawk symbolizes strength and commitment to the mission of the Wing. The Nighthawk is threaded in a golden brown outlined in black, with eyes of red. The disk is divided diagonally from dexter base to sinister chief into two colors. On the top is Air Force yellow to signify the setting sun and enduring excellence. On the bottom is Air force blue to signify our sky and the Air Force theater of operations. On the bottom of the Air Force blue, located below the Nighthawk, is a black gear which symbolizes a mechanism that denotes our intermediate industrial capability and strength. The black color denotes the security classification of our program's technology. The atom designed 3/4 in the field of Air Force yellow symbolizes technology and our vast potential which is made of up of many diversified shops. The red color signifies the power and capability of this technology. The scroll will be gray with black lettering. The border of the disk and the scroll are black.
