OPERATIONS

Beginning in late 1983, HQ ATC conducted a study of the field training program, looking at organization and mission performance. The study group found that the training detachments did an excellent job in the field. It was organization that caused problems. From its establishment on 1 April 1976, the 3785th Field Training Group had operated a worldwide teaching program with the aid of a single squadron—the 3751st. Through the years, the lines of authority and responsibility had become indistinct. To define these elements more clearly, the study group recommended elevating the 3785th to wing level and assigning four squadrons to the wing. With Air Staff approval, on 1 July 1984, ATC redesignated the 3785th Field Training Group as the 3785th Field Training Wing, assigned the 3751st Field Training Squadron to the wing, and activated three additional field training squadrons: the 3752d, 3753d, and 3754th. Like the group, the 3785th Field Training Wing, remained assigned to the Sheppard Technical Training Center.
