Mobility airmen at Kandahar Airfield, Afghanistan, finished the air leg of a multi-modal equipment swap-out between the Army's 1st Combat Aviation Brigade and 3rd CAB, according to a Kandahar release. During the nearly three-week effort in August, C-5As from JBSA-Lackland, Tex., and C-5Ms from Dover AFB, Del., airlifted more than 120 helicopters between Kandahar and Western Europe, states the Sept. 4 release. The deployed aircrews worked with members of Kandahar's 8th Expeditionary Air Mobility Squadron, Det. 1 to complete the task. "A lot of advance planning made any obstacles we encountered minor and manageable," said Capt. Rob Cross, 8th EAMS aircraft maintenance officer. 2013
