Those responsible for the operations of the Technical School or those working in the Post Headquarters fell under the Headquarters Squadron. The cadre overseeing the Replacement Training Center came under the Headquarters and Headquarters Squadron, Air Corps Replacement Training Center (Technicians). All remaining administrative functions--maintenance, service, and support for aircraft field operations--were performed by the 70th Air Base Group. Both the technical school and the basic training center operated as separate staff units under the control of Colonel Black.
