NICKNAME

OPERATIONS

Adoption of a new maintenance procedure by the 81st Tactical Fighter Wing brought the 81st Periodic Maintenance Squadron into existence at Bentwaters in July 1958. Mission of the newly formed unit includes the high quality periodic inspections and maintenance, utilizing specialist support as required, on jet aircraft assigned to the 81st Tactical Fighter Wing. Nothing escapes the eagle eye of the Periodic Maintenance men, and it is a credit to their skill, patience and painstaking thoroughness that malfunctions on Bentwaters-based aircraft are few and far between.
